About Me

I am a Venezuelan who lives in Peru since 1 year ago, I am 25 years old and I like interacting with people of many cultures.

I am a responsible and methodical person that always pay attention to details, I am also really sociable because I really enjoy talking with people every time that I have the opportunity.

I always practice Japanese and German by myself and I know the troubles that can appear while learning a language.

Me as a Teacher

I have studied to be an English teacher, I have 2 years of experience teaching. Therefore, I can borrow many methods and techniques that I am used to implementing.

I really care that when I teach, the student could enjoy the process of learning the language.

My Lessons & Teaching Style

I will show you many images with minimal pairs so you can see reality clearly the difference in pronunciation and also written between words that a pretty similar.

Therefore, I will practice with you conversation, and I will show you the differences in some accents, in order for you to not get confused at the moment of expressing your ideas.
